

Quincy Public Library
Wireless Internet Use Policy

The Internet is a vast worldwide community with no limitations or restrictions. Information available through the Internet may be protected by copyrights or trademarks, and not all sources on the Internet provide accurate, complete, or current information. The Quincy Public Library is not responsible for any information obtained on the Internet.

Wireless Internet Use Policy:

1. Transmission of copyrighted or pornographic materials in violation of any federal or state regulation is prohibited.
2. Since the Library is a public forum, privacy while using the Internet cannot be provided. Users are also cautioned that all transactions and communications in an electronic environment are vulnerable to unauthorized access.
3. Users are responsible for knowing how to configure their own equipment. Library staff cannot provide technical support for establishing or maintaining a connection. The Library will not support configurations and cannot be responsible for any changes made to an individual's computer settings.
4. Any malicious attempt to harm or destroy data is prohibited. This includes the uploading or creating of computer viruses.
5. Do not use the network in a way that disrupts the use of the network by others. This includes but is not limited to downloading large files and streaming audio or video.
6. Printing is not available through the wireless network. Printing is available through the Library public access computers. Please ask at the Reference Department for more details.

Use of the Internet at the Library is a privilege, not a right. Any violation of the Library's Wireless Internet policy may result in loss of library privileges and appropriate legal action may be taken. The Library reserves the right to terminate a wireless Internet session at any time.

Due to the ever-changing nature of these services, this policy is subject to change without notice at the Library's discretion.
